Deputy nabs TG&Y 'lifter

A brand new pair of shoes gleaming on the feet of a shopper not carrying worn footwear aroused the curiosity of Deputy Sheriff Raoul Telhiard on special duty at T.G. and Y. Store about 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Robert Hugh Henry, 28, who identified himself as an employee at MTO was arrested and charged with shoplifting just outside of the store after Telhiard found his discarded shoes mixed with new ones on the rack and was taken to Hancock County jail.

He posted bond and in addition to paying for the merchandise, was fined $30, at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Nolan Lader Monday.

Ask $250,000 school issue

A resolution calling for a $250,000 bond issue to finance immediate building needs was approved by the county board of education at a meeting Saturday and will now come before the board of supervisors to fix a date for voting on the issue.

This is the county schools' second attempt in less than a year to raise funds to cope with growing enrollment and construction plans this time have been whittled to what board attorney Walter J. Phillips has termed the minimum to meet present needs alone. A $375,000 issue last May failed to carry the necessary 60 per cent approval, falling short by 54 votes.

Motion fixing the bond issue at $250,000 was by S.P. Powell, retiring Beat 4 trustee, after his successor, who goes into office Jan. 4, urged that more than the $200,000 first talked of be raised to more adequately meet needs. Legis Necaise of Beat 5 seconded.

Subsequently the board, on the motion of Beat 1 Trustee Charles B. Murphy, formally declared its intention to relocate the Logtown School at Pearlington at the same time it proposed with the work at Gulfview School and Hancock North Central contemplated under the bond issue.

The declaration of intent was designed to settle the concerns of Pearlington area residents who have been fearful ever since the first bond plan was killed that the Logtown plan would not be realized there. A delegation from that area has been on hand for virtually every school board meeting since then, arguing that the economy of the section is dependent on provision for an elementary school.

A number of tart words were injected by the Pearlington spectators last Saturday who contended they wanted a grammar school before a junior high school is erected in the south section of the county. Murphy told them there are simply not enough pupils in the Gulfview and Logtown areas to support a high school and indicated concern for the future of the county system when every neighboring area—Slidell, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Piquette and Bay St. Louis—are all going ahead with building programs.

Phillips, saying he was speaking as state representative from Hancock County and not in his capacity as board attorney, declared he did not see how anything could be accomplished in school building and improvement until all factions start working together.

The bond issue resolution provides only for the facilities at Gulfview and HNC since the intention is to use money from the government's acquisition of Logtown School to provide the Pearlington plant. The latter is to get eight classrooms, administrative offices and a cafeteria under the latest resolution, the availability of funds determining stages in which

Suspect pros in Waveland thefts

Burglary of two Waveland Beach homes are still under investigation by Hancock County sheriff's office.

According to Chief Deputy Edo Depree professional thieves are sought for burglary of the homes of E.V. Landiche and the neighboring Claude Duke residence, as entry was gained by use of keys, no doors or windows being broken, nor were there signs of forced entry.

Missing from the Landiche home were a mink stole, three cases of liquor, two ladies dresses, a diamond pin, gold cuff links, a rifle, revolver, two men's suits, a radio, vacuum cleaner, insurance papers and silverware. The Duke residence was similarly stripped, including the loss of an adding machine.

The thefts were discovered on Dec. 10, when the owners visited their summer homes for the first time in three weeks, Depree said. The sheriff's office withheld a report on the break-ins for several days.

Methodists celebrate pastor at supper

One hundred members of Main Street Methodist Church honored Rev. and Mrs. Lamar Martin at a fellowship supper Friday night at the church. James McDonald, chairman of the official board, presided at a brief program after the supper. Nancy McDonald, representing Linda Hamilton, president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, reported for the youth of the church; William R. Pitcairn spoke on progress of the church school during the year; Mrs. C.C. McDonald, Jr., outlined accomplishments of the Woman's Society for Christian Service, and the chairman summed up the report for the first seven months of the year which ends May 31, paying special tribute to the pastor.

The WSCS, presented two place settings of flat silver to Mr. and Mrs. Martin and expressed appreciation for their cooperation in all activities, and in use of the parsonage for the open house in the spring, the recent Christmas tea for new members, and many other meetings.

Candles and Christmas berries were used to decorate the hall, and tables for eight, and a bountiful array of attractive dishes provided a delicious supper. Mrs. Sam Whitfield was chairman for the supper, assisted by the young people and women of the church.

Grasshopper pie is good Yule eating

Thinking of goodies for holiday feasting?

Here's a recipe for grasshopper pie which Mrs. Rubie Bordages is sharing with us this week which is most appropriate for Christmas time.

For the crust take three-quarters of chocolate wafers, crush into fine crumbs and add one stick melted butter or oleo. Put into pie plate and pat down to a firm crust. Bake about five to 10 minutes in a 350-degree preheated oven.

For the filling, in the top of a double boiler melt 22 marshmallows in 1/4 cup milk, cool, add one package of plain gelatin dissolved in 1/4 cup tap water. Mix well, put in refrigerator until it starts to get custardy. Remove and add 3 tablespoons each of green creme de menthe and white (or brown) creme de cocoa. (A little more cocoa is better.) Mix well and put back in refrigerator until it is custardy again.

Whip stiff 1/2 pint whipping cream and fold into mixture. Pour into pie shell and freeze. Remove about one-half hour before serving.

ROCKS PLAY SATURDAY

Wonder how he'll get around that one when she arrives in Bay St. Louis to spend Christmas?

We hope another teen-age gentleman has learned his lesson... he was giving the impression that two famous poets were his grandparents, and was a bit embarrassed to learn that the well know pair were childless!

We have a brand new list of steadies: Twosomes are Beverly Fricke and E.J. Ladner, Connie Necaise and Chuck Wagner and Dianne Banderet and Marvin Krankey.

The longtime togetherness of Judy Compretta and Stanley Burch continues in the same smooth fashion.

Peggy Musser is wearing a diamond on THE finger and we're told that she and Dennis Hale have selected next Aug. 28, 1965, as the date.

Donna Johnston and Carlos Lander have been seeing quite a lot of each other lately.

Rose Mary Bilbo is proudly displaying the engagement ring which she received last Friday.

Lynda Smith and Joe Overall will celebrate their sixth (month, that is) going steady anniversary over the weekend.

A very happy birthday wish goes to Helen Daniel who cut her 15th cake on Monday, Dec. 14.

More steady news - Nancy Smith and Pat Waite have been a twosome for four months and Alice Lackey and David LaFrance who have been paired off for a whole year on Dec. 20.

A very special happy birthday wish goes to pretty Michael Reimke who was 15 on Monday, Dec. 21.

Sandy Fillingame is now officially Bay St. Louis' first Junior Miss. Runners-up were Ann Gottschalk, first alternate; Melva Luke, second alternate; and Numa Piazza who received the Miss Personality trophy.

Lots of pre-holiday activity around local schools. Bay High's band and chorus presented their annual Christmas program twice last week. They entertained the P-TA on Tuesday and gave a well attended concert in the school auditorium on Thursday night. Selections varied from traditional carols to the more modern White Christmas.

PHA members gave a tea following a display of their homemaking talents at Bay High Friday afternoon.

St. Stanislaus boarders were hard at work on their always lovely manger scene on Saturday.

Newcomer Valerie Nybo who moved here from Vicksburg with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Nybo made the dean's list at Southern last quarter, but wasn't on the list printed in the Echo as they arrived here after she had registered.

Among college students who don't get home very often due to either attending schools in distant states or to jobs where

IN GERMANY - Pfc. Walden L. Watkins of Bay St. Louis has been serving with the 14th Armored Cavalry in Herfeld, Germany, located 12 miles from the East German border since June and is working with S-2. After entering the Army last year he attended the airborne training school at Ft. Benning, Ga.

TO 8 ET 40 DINNER

Attending the Yuletide dinner of Salon 218, 8 et 40, at the Buena Vista Dec. 12 were Mesdames Gilbert Gayarr, Gordon Romanoff, Henry Capadon, Dan Ziegler, Claiborne Ladner and Rene Bermond. Special guest was Mrs. Carl Ochsmann, past departmental chapeau.

At least one local girl and boy will spend part of their Christmas holiday in the hospital. Pretty Marion Cospelich will enter Hancock General for major surgery on Monday and Pat Murphy was admitted to Baptist Hospital in New Orleans for surgery on Friday, but hopes to get home on Christmas Eve.

Bay High graduate C.J. Favre may have been spotted by some of his friends on television Saturday afternoon as he marched with the Ole Miss Band during half-time ceremonies at the Ole Miss-State football game.

TODAY
Good Health & Long Life are Invisible Christmas Gifts

When the Three Wise Men, led by the star, came from the Orient to worship at the King in Bethlehem, they brought with them gifts meant for a King. Along with gold and precious stones, they brought medicinal and aromatic herbs and spices (such as frankincense and myrrh) then numbered among the world's most treasured possessions.

It is clear from Biblical writings that the early Hebrews prized the "vegetable drugs" very highly and they had great respect for the physician and the physician's assistant, the apothecary (pharmacist).

Beginning with the Book of Exodus, the Bible makes mention of these two "health team" members and of the methods they used to heal the sick. Bandages, applications of oil and of oil mixed with wine, salves, poultices, roots and leaves were the tools the Biblical physician used in order to practice his profession.

Fortunately, times have changed since then. Today's physician can count on hundreds of useful drugs to help him in his fight against disease. And, thanks to modern research, under your Christmas Star there's an invisible gift . . . health and long life.

Bay and bayou

By HANK EVANS

When genial Gene Maughan was broadcasting the Bay High basketball game the other night, he made the statement that he'd be willing to carry any sport - including riddledysticks - to the radio audience. And Gene would, providing someone would sponsor the program. So we got to thinking. How about marbles? Or jacks? Or knitting cast nets? But the winning suggestion, offered by Bayou Bill, is that Bay St. Louis sportsmen should form a mumblety-peg league. The equipment for each player would be a black leather jacket and a switchblade knife, and the first two teams in the league should be, naturally, Senzenau's Slashers and Trapani's Torturers.

Saw J. E. Lotacano back in town after his first season in professional football with the Canton Bulldogs. The Bulldogs had enjoyed an excellent season, coming out tops in their loop, and J.E. looks like they fed him pretty well, too.

With the wintry weather now upon us, outdoor sporting activities are not too appealing to most of us chilly chickens. But there is plenty of fun in watching the local high school basketball squads battle it out. And we recommend getting to the gym early to watch the preliminary games as well as the varsity features. Those who didn't get to Bay High for the girls' game against St. Martin that went into three overtime periods missed one of the most exciting matches played around here in recent years.

Harry Henkannen has been enjoying his new Belvedere, but we'll bet he doesn't see much of it while his boy is home holidaying from the Army.

More good news from the duck hunters. Edward Estapa, Jr., and the Santinellis, E.J., Edward, and Larry, have been doing well over in the Pine Hills area.

Eddie Blaize has been one of the few braving the chill and damp to drop a line off the railroad bridge, but he has brought in some very worthwhile catches. Recently he was handing out flounders like flapjacks.

Al Kingston, who is always trying to stir up a hot discussion among his customers, came up with a real winner. Al asked, "Does a buck deer shed his horns, and, if so, how often?" Talk got pretty loud as Bill Lozano, Charles Johnson, Joe Copley, John Hayward, Michael Lee and this writer got into the argument. We finally appealed to Mrs. Wilson at the library to help settle the question, and she dug the answer out of the encyclopedia. According to the World Book, all species of deer except one shed their antlers once each year. And, as they grow back, an extra point usually forms on each side. The one species that doesn't shed? The reindeer that Santa Claus will be driving into town this week. There is no open season on reindeer in Hancock County, so don't shoot.

Question for the week: What would happen if we took away H.A. Gilmore's perpetually unlit cigar and Clay Seely's always well-chewed toothpick? For one thing, nobody would recognize either one of them.

Merry Christmas to one and all.

Johnson stars as BHS bites Jackals

Bay High Tigers racked up their sixth cage victory of the season Thursday when Larry Johnson led the team to a 52-34 win over St. Martin. Johnson passed 24 points through his basket while Mike Nacaise scored 13 and Bruce Cox contributed 10. St. Martin's Mike Letort, with a 12-point total, was the only player on his side to get into two figures.

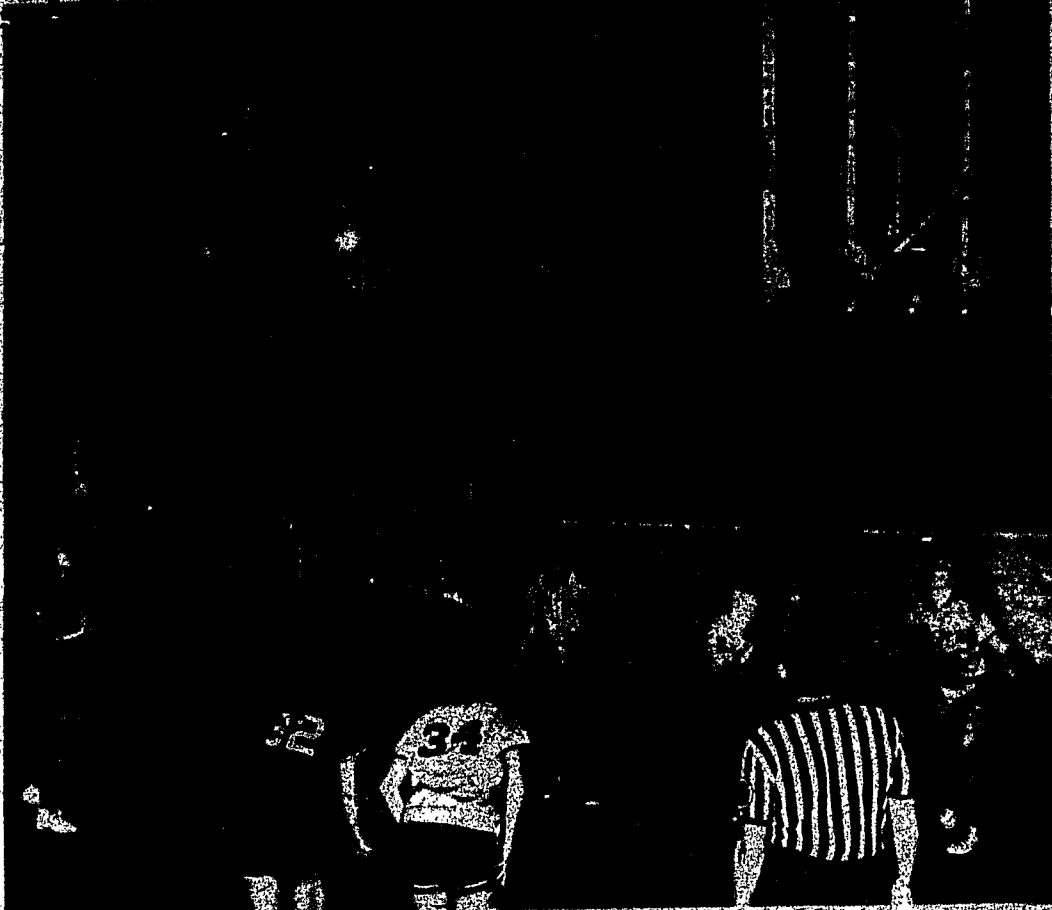

St. Martin, however, took both the preliminary rounds of the evening. The freshmen squad ground out a 44-33 win over the little Tigers, and St. Martin's girls took the Tigerettes 63-61 in a thriller that went to three overtime periods before it was finally decided.

The Tigers took control from the first few seconds of the main event and never let up. Johnson and Nacaise put on an effective passing show which seldom failed to get inside the Yellow Jacket defense. Leading 27-10 at the end of the first period, the Tigers kept the score at least doubled during the rest of the game. In the fourth quarter, after coach Wilmer Seymour had called on the Bay High bench, the Tigers added 22 points compared with six for the stingerless Yellow Jackals.

The evening's opener between the freshman boys was all in favor of the taller and heavier bunch from St. Martin. The visitors took an early lead and built it up steadily. By the end of the first quarter, St. Martin was leading 14-8. In the last minute of the third quarter, going into the final stanza with a 44-38 edge over the Tigerettes.

From there on out it was strictly a point-swapper. With 1:09 on the clock and the tilt tied 55-51, coach Seymour called for the standard holding tactics in hopes that one of his girls could sneak in the winning goal. But the maneuver didn't pan out and the horn ended regular time with the deadlock undecided.

In the first two overtime periods each squad added two points per two minutes to keep it locked up; the varsity boys were beginning to wonder if they were going to get to play when the girls went into triple-overtime: 59-59. Then, Melva Luke basked two free-throws to put the Tigerettes ahead, only to have Nancy Goff put in two free tosses for St. Martin; and, with seconds left on the TENSE MOMENT - Melva Luke pitches high free-throw for Bay High Tigerettes in third overtime period against St. Martin. Pitch was good but St. Martin's girls came back with 63-61 win.

Tigerettes took a small early lead and stood out from 14-8 at the quarter mark. They held out through the half 28-22, but St. Martin started to get the range and pulled up even in the last minute of the third quarter, going into the final stanza with a 44-38 edge over the Tigerettes.

Then, Melva Luke basked two free-throws to put the Tigerettes ahead, only to have Nancy Goff put in two free tosses for St. Martin; and, with seconds left on the clock, Goff pitched the vital field goal from a good 25-feet out.

Melva Luke of Bay High had tossed in an impressive 38 points for the losers; and Pat Pernicelli added 13. High pointers for St. Martin were Goff, 26, Betty King, 21, and Beverly Fountain, 16.

Hawks smother Ocean Springs

The Hawks flew all over the field at Hancock North Central last night, delivering the winning pack from Ocean Springs in a 35-30 thrashing. In regular varsity, Hawks also won with Glen Davis contributing 10 points to the 47-22 victory.

North Central led 12-10 after the first period. But the Hawks picked up steam in the second and capped 21 points to the Greyhounds' eight. The pace held up through the third quarter to give HNC a lead of 55-29 going into the final. Then the home team pulled out all stops and, with the second stringers active through much of last stanza, the Hawks gathered another 30 points against a scant two gained by the tired pack of Greyhounds.

All five of HNC's starters shared heavily in the scoring. Wendell Lader was high with 20. Eddie Peterson got 16, Paul Cuevas, 13, Werlin Lader, 12, Kenny Randall, 10. Gilmer Jolley led Ocean Springs with 15.

Hawk coach Roland Lader was high in praise for his cagers and happy to have them back in winning form, but he accounted partially for the unequal outcome by the fact that the Greyhounds are undergoing considerable rebuilding this season. The Hawks resume play Jan. 5 at Long Beach.

but does make tracing such calls nearly impossible, so it's up to you mothers and fathers to more closely supervise your offsprings' nocturnal activities. . . and if you would just tune in on some of their vocabularies, you'd be more than a little shocked.

This is sort of a second mystery—at least it's a personal one. Someone sent us the most fabulous Christmas card—it is large, with a picture of the Holy Family travelling to Bethlehem on a blue background with a tiny gold border and the back of the card is in solid gold. . . it's one of the loveliest we've ever seen—BUT there's just one problem. . . the sender forgot all about the signature. . . so whom do we thank???

Another treasured card, which is actually a most appreciated booklet of poems, pictures, etc., arrived from Baton Rouge from Frances Lawton. While on the subject of that wonderful gal, Frances, we want to mention the fact that her mother, Mrs. J.P. Bonnacarre, spent two days visiting her sister, Mrs. Ben Peterson, in her Clermont Harbor home last week.

Biting or not?

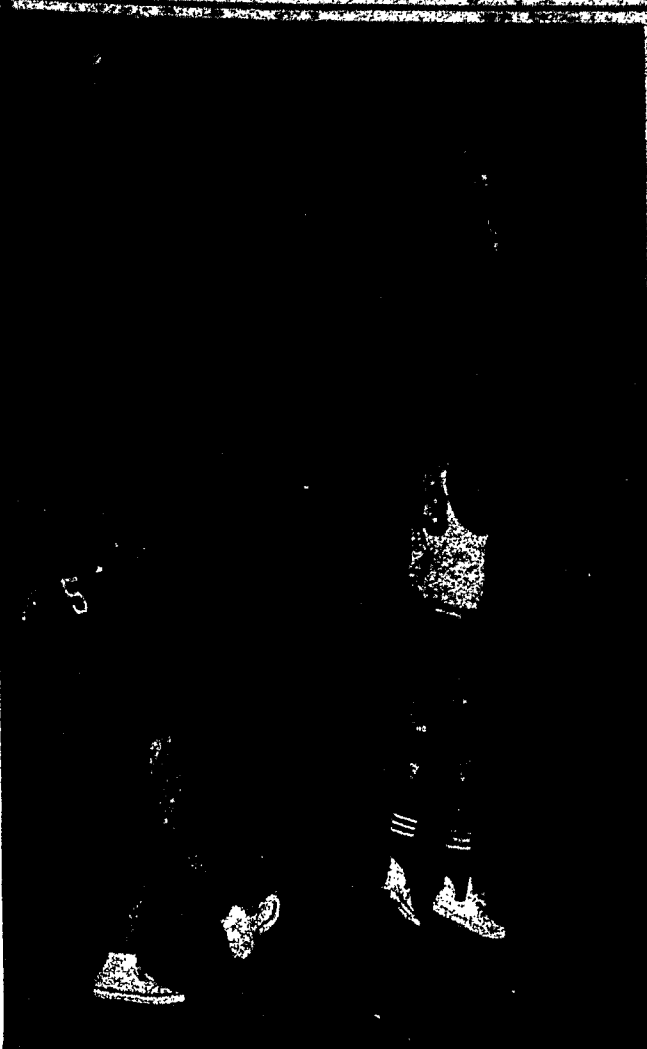

We're utterly devoid of same, but judging by the wistful look in Eddie Blaize's eyes last Saturday, he at least, thought they would be biting.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - The really Christmassy appearance of homes, streets in business sections and lawns all over town; contrasted by blossoming of the first spring narcissi, so white, delicate and fragrant and sounds of the seasonal medley of carols, excited childish voices, whispered conferences and the snap of shoes on sidewalks as no one walks anymore, they just rush about madly futilely attempting to catch up on inevitable last minute things they should have done weeks ago!

ALL GOOD WISHES FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON!

*The friends are gone, the carols sing,
And silence reigns now bells have rung,
The meal's complete, the gifts exchanged,
And 'round the fire this group arranged,
The family, like they've always done,
In silence, happy, warm and one.
May every year ahead for men
See groups like this meet so again.
This is, in truth, what Christmas means,
And what it means in one Star's beams.
Each man and woman, girl and boy,
We wish for you the Season's joy!*
